

Education Maintenance Allowance (EMA) Other dependant evidence

If your household income is between £23,400 and £25,974 you need to send evidence that there's another dependant living in your household. Use the information below to find out what evidence you need to send in support of your application.

We will accept photocopies of your evidence.

If your household income is £25,975 or more you won't be able to get EMA.

In my household, there are:	You need to send:
other dependant children living with me under the age of 16	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• your household's most recent Child Benefit statement; or• the child's birth certificate; or• your household's most recent Tax Credit Award Notification that lists each young person.
other dependant children living with me aged between 16, 17, 18, 19 or 20 and in full-time further education or training	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• your household's most recent Child Benefit statement; or• your household's most recent Tax Credit Award Notification that lists each young person; or• the child's birth certificate and a confirmation of enrolment or award from a Further Education Institution as proof that the child has been accepted onto a course.